

BRITISH GUILD OF AGRICULTURAL JOURNALISTS

Netherthorpe Award

A special Award to members of the Guild in recognition of an outstanding and sustained contribution to agricultural communications

NOMINATIONS DEADLINE – Friday, 14 September 2018

This award is made annually to the Guild member who has made an outstanding and sustained contribution to agricultural communications. It is judged from nominations made by Members of the Guild.

Judges will be looking for someone who has contributed to the dissemination of knowledge and understanding about agriculture in its widest sense, over a number of years.

This can have been by the written word or through editing, by production or presentation on radio and television. It is open to press and public relations members of the Guild, as well as journalists, editors and photographers.

To see who has won previously and why, visit the Netherthorpe Award page of the Guild's website here.
